ETAM x NENSI DOJAKA

Etam collaborates with Nensi Dojaka on a limited-edition collection that elevates swimwear into couture territory.

The meeting between Etam's lingerie expertise and the designer's architectural vision gives rise to a sculptural monochrome collection where structure, precision and femininity converge.

NENSI DOJAKA

A graduate of Central Saint Martins and winner of the prestigious LVMH Prize, Nensi Dojaka has developed a distinctive aesthetic language characterised by pure lines, graphic cut-outs, delicate draping and precise construction.

Her work explores a confident and empowered vision of femininity. Each piece is designed to make women feel strong, proud and fully confident in their bodies.

At the heart of her creative process is draping in volume. She experiments with lines and movement directly on the body before translating them into sketches, creating silhouettes that feel both precise and architectural.

The influence of lingerie, which she explored during her studies, runs throughout her work and is reflected in the meticulous attention paid to detail and construction.

This approach naturally resonates with Etam's savoir-faire, making this collaboration an obvious meeting of worlds.

THE COLLECTION

For this collaboration, Etam and Nensi Dojaka present a monochrome black collection of graphic pieces inspired by the iconic swimwear silhouettes of the 1990s.

Structured bandeau tops, one-piece swimsuits and a cut-out dress create a wardrobe defined by clean, elegant lines, designed to be worn at the beach or styled effortlessly with ready-to-wear.

Tie-up straps at the back, visible underwires, subtle draping and carefully placed cut-outs highlight the delicacy of the nape and frame the curve of a hip into the light.

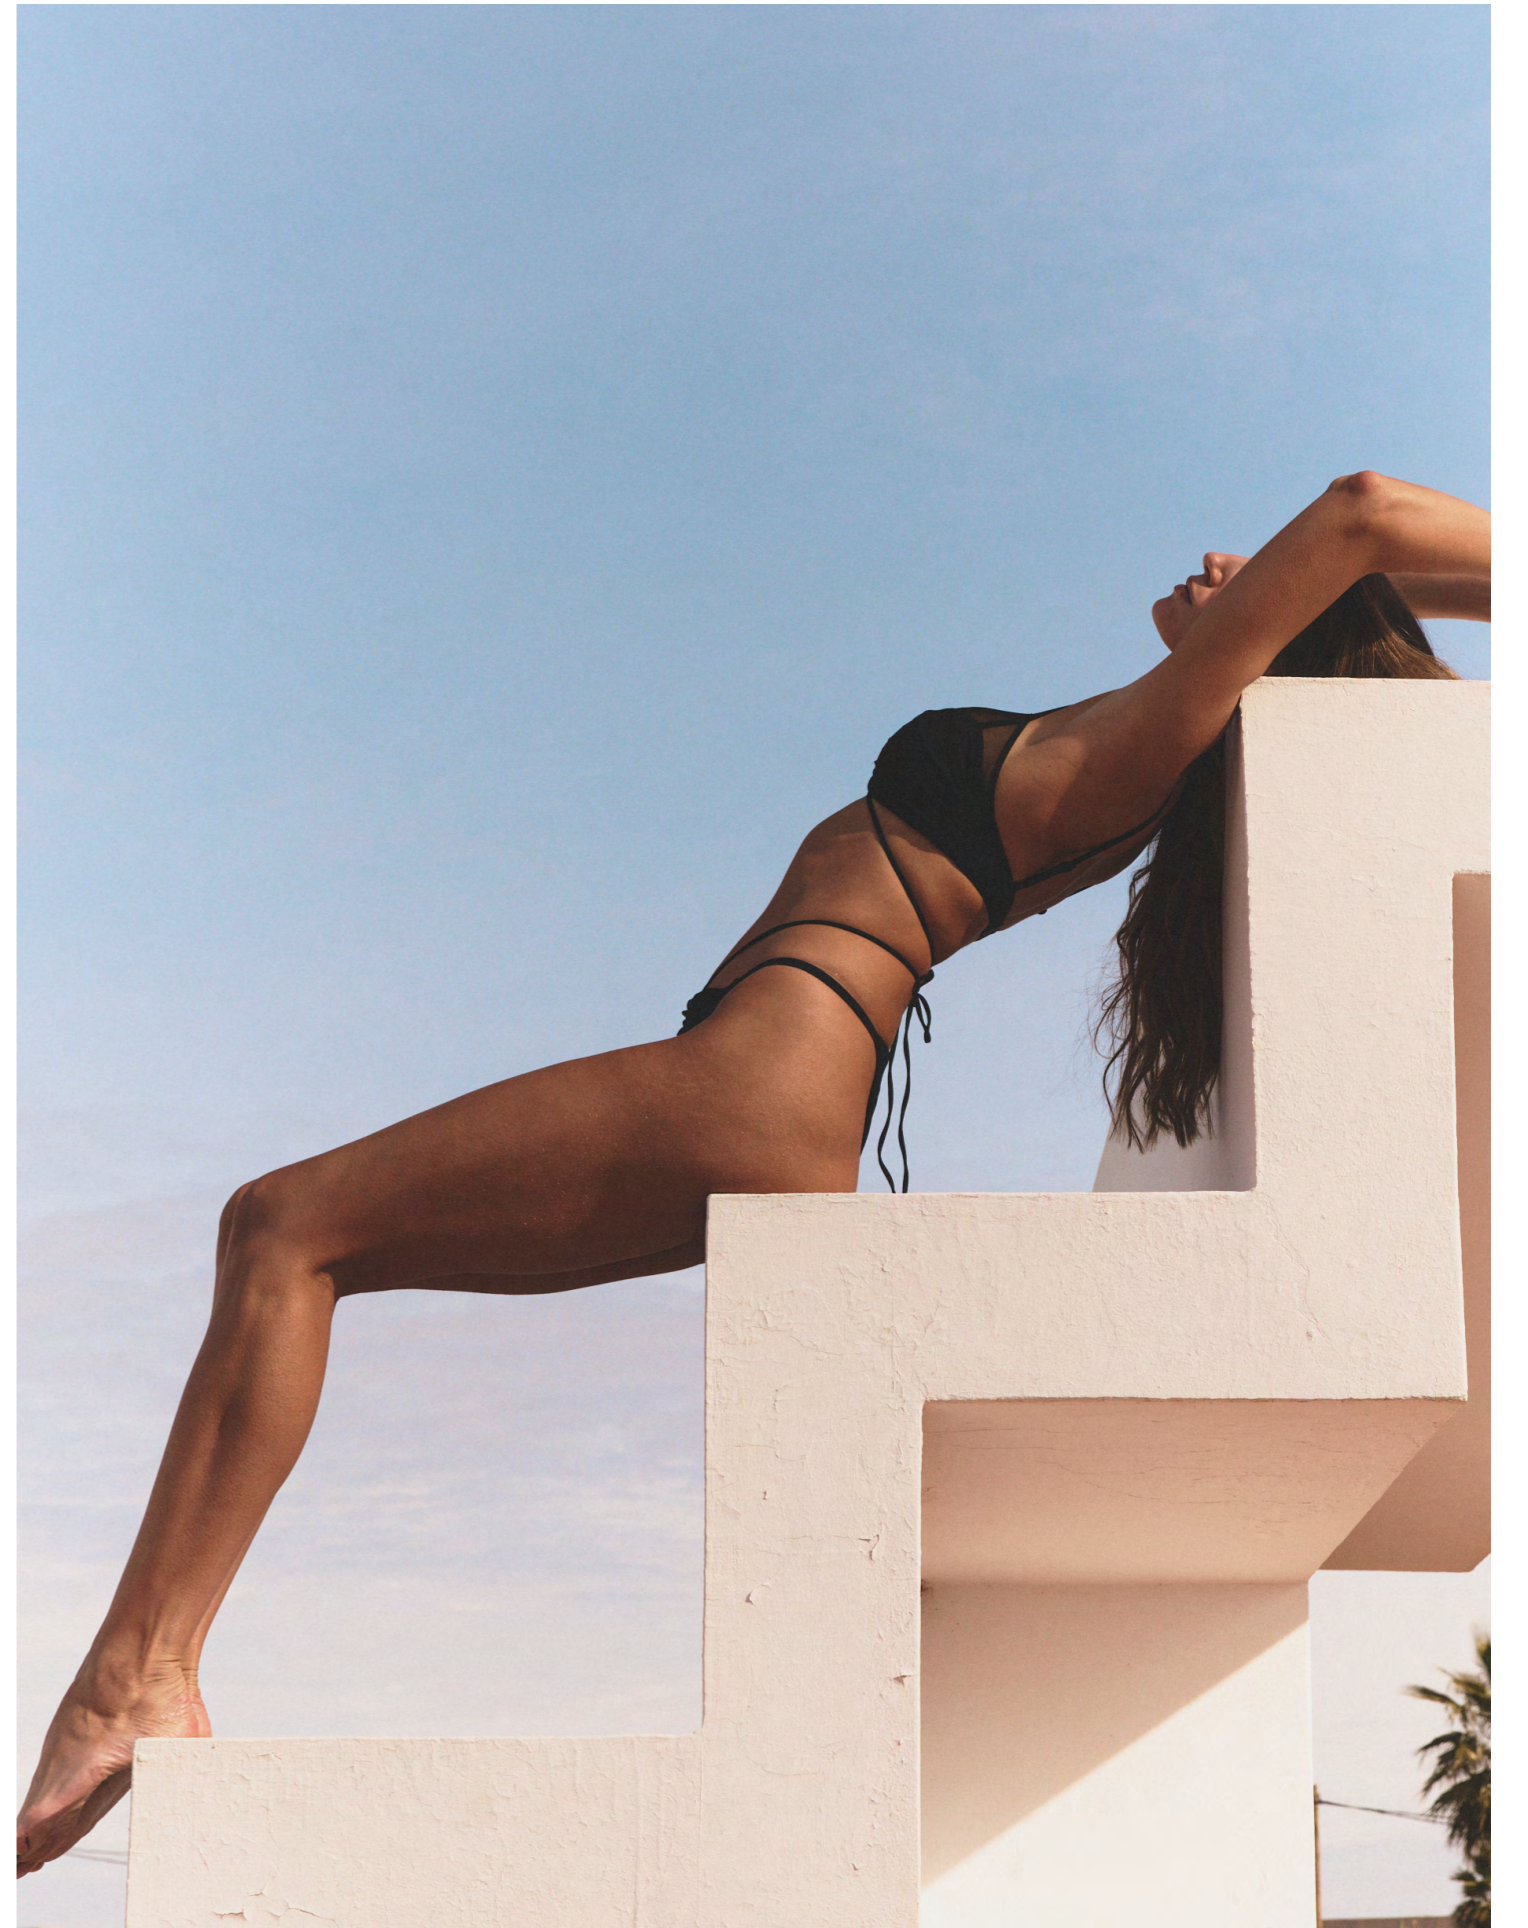

The Etam x Nensi Dojaka collection will be available from 14th April online and in stores in France, the United States and Mexico, with prices starting from €30.
